Tau Beta Pi Elects Wallace Delegate

Fraternity Makes Plans For
Monthly Luncheon
Meetings

Charlton O. Wallace was elected a delegate to the Tau Beta Pi convention to be held in Washington, D. C., October 13, 14, and 15. The election was held at 4 p.m. Monday in Mechanical hall. Wallace is a member of Kappa Sigma social fraternity and a senior in the Engineering college.

At the same meeting, plans were made for monthly luncheon meetings of the fraternity with the idea of entertaining guests of the Engineering college and the speakers at the engineering convocation.

Tau Beta Pi is continuing the custom of presenting a slide rule to the sophomore having the highest standing in his freshman year. This is open only to members of the Engineering college, and will be based entirely on standing.

A committee was appointed to figure these standings. The members of the committee are: John M. Kane, Richard Newcomb, and Pyrtle Stewart.

They have also made plans for a pledging exercise on October 26, at which time approximately 10 new members will be taken into the fraternity. The officers are: John M. Kane, president; Horace Helm, vice-president; and James Frankel, corresponding secretary.

System of Awards
Of W. A. A. Points
Changed, Approved

A change in the point system of awards for Women's Athletic association was considered and approved at a meeting of the council at 4 p.m. Monday in Miss Rebecca Averill's office. The appointments of girls to fill vacancies on the council was deferred until the next meeting on October 17.

According to the new ruling, numerals will be awarded to girls who gain a total of 300 points, pins for 600 points, and "K's" will be given to girls who accumulate 1,000 points.

Places on the council which will be filled at the next council meeting include chairman of the following committees: basketball, tumbling, baseball, tennis, and membership.

Points are awarded to girls who participate in practice, and games of the major and minor sports.

The season opens Tuesday afternoon with archery practice at 3 o'clock and hockey practice at 4 o'clock on the Women Athletic field behind Patterson hall. All university girls are eligible and are cordially invited to participate in games and sports, according to Clara Margaret Fort, president of W. A. A.

Members of the council and committees of which they are chairmen are: Clara Margaret Fort, president; Margaret McHatten, vice-president and social chairman; Catherine Cook, secretary and historian; Helen Fry, treasurer, posters, hiking and camping; Martha Lewis, hockey; Jeannie Bell Parker, archery; Sarah Purnell, volleyball; Polly Lee, rifle; and Mary Carolyn Terrell, publicity.

Plans for Debating Team Are Uncertain

According to Prof. W. S. Sutherland, coach of the debating team, the plans of the team for the coming year are very uncertain. There is no budget and little probability of acquiring one. There may be radio debates with Louisville, Berea, and Centre and such visiting teams as may be going through Lexington, but, aside from the trip to Louisville, virtually all of the meetings will be held on the campus. Later on, if enough interest is shown, intramural debates may be held.

In the past the university debate team, under the direction of Professor Sutherland, has met and defeated many of the most outstanding teams in the country. Foreign universities have also sent teams to the university, and debates attracting widespread attention have resulted.

Professor Sutherland is known throughout the state as an authority on public speaking and is the author of several books and pamphlets on the subject of debate and argumentation. He has aided the extension department in high school debate activities, and members of the university debate team have been called upon to judge high school contests throughout the state.

ADVISORY BOARD TO MEET

Advisory Board of the Y. W. C. A. will hold its first meeting of the year at 4:15 p. m. Wednesday at Maxwell place. Plans will be made for entertaining the delegates to the state convention of the student Y. W. C. A. to be held October 21, 22, and 23, at the university. Miss Augusta Roberts, student secretary for the local organization will give an account of the Y. W. C. A. student pilgrimage to Europe this summer and will relate her experiences as a member of the group. Tea will be served after the business meeting.

Miss Montgomery, senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, and a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Montgomery, 324 East Maxwell street, Friday was selected regimental sponsor of the University R. O. T. C. unit. Miss Montgomery's selection was made from a list of eight candidates by a committee of officers from the military staff of the R. O. T. C. Miss Montgomery is a member of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, the university Glee club, Strollers, dramatic organization; the Y. W. C. A. She is an alumnus of Owens, sophomore students' honorary. PAN-POLITIKON RELEASES PLANS

Members of Sub-Committees
In Charge of Programs
To Be Announced
Thursday

FRANCE TO BE STUDIED

Pan-Politikon, society for the study of international customs and cultures, will announce its sub-committee members Thursday, according to an announcement issued by members of the executive committee following a meeting held yesterday in McVey hall. Thirteen colleges and departments will be represented, it was said.

Plans to bring a speaker to the university for the November convocation are under way and Congressman Virgil Chapman is working with the university group in an effort to obtain a speaker high in French diplomatic circles to make the address. France is the nation selected for study the first semester, while Switzerland was selected for the second semester's study.

Members of the committees to be appointed Thursday will be in charge of the programs in the department of the university they represent. They will be required to call upon the professors in each department and request them to cooperate in the study of France. The faculty will be asked to devote one hour of their class time to the discussion of French methods or influence in their particular field.

Programs will be printed and each faculty member cooperating will have his name and the subject of his discussion on the program. Departments and colleges to be represented include the law, engineering, education, agriculture, and commerce colleges, and the English, art, music, journalism departments; social sciences and physical sciences. Convocation will probably be held during the third week in November, according to tentative plans.

Municipal League Will Meet Oct. 27-28

The Kentucky Municipal league, of which Dr. T. C. Jones of the political science department is secretary, will hold its annual conference October 27 and 28. This convention will be attended by some of the most outstanding men in the field of city government; among them will be: Louis Brownlow, a native Kentuckian, who was mayor of Washington during Wilson's administration; Paul V. Betters, secretary of the American Municipal association, who has attained a nation-wide reputation for research work in city government; Clarence E. Ridley, of Chicago, professor of municipal government and editor of "Public Management"; and Carl H. Charters, executive director of the Municipal Finance Officers association of the United States and Canada.

More than a hundred Kentucky cities are members of the league and will send delegates to the meeting. Among prominent Kentucky men will be Gov. Ruby Laffoon; Mayor W. B. Harrison, of Louisville; Attorney-General Wooten; and Mayor Rodes of Bowling Green.

Arts and Sciences Professors Have Edge in Contest Put on by Kentuckian

VOTING TO CONTINUE
THROUGH WEDNESDAY

Each Upperclassman Eligible
To Cast Three Ballots
For Favorite Profs.

Dr. George K. Brady, secretary of Phi Beta Kappa, and professor of English, in the College of Arts and Sciences, is ahead in the Kentuckian faculty popularity contest, sponsored in connection with the photographing of juniors and seniors for the class section of the 1933 annual. The contest has been extended until Saturday when the photographers, will leave the campus.

Balloting for the favorite faculty members will be conducted from 8 until 5 p. m. the rest of this week in the basement of the Alumni gymnasium where the photographs are located.

Each junior and senior who has his picture made for the annual will be entitled to three votes in the faculty popularity contest. One faculty member from each college will be selected on the basis of highest votes in that college and the highest four faculty members will be chosen regardless of college to have their pictures in the faculty division of the yearbook.

Professors in the Arts and Science college have an edge on numbers in the lead over other colleges, while the college of Agriculture and the college of Law are not represented in the lead due to the fact that many of the juniors and seniors in these colleges have not voted.

According to the results of the contest as announced Friday night, those highest in the Arts and Sciences College are Dr. George K. Brady, Prof. L. L. Dantzer, Prof. R. L. Shannon, and Prof. Grant C. Knight, from the English department; Dr. Otto Koppius and Prof. W. S. Webb, physics department; Dr. E. L. Hall, history department; Prof. Charles Barkenbus, chemistry department; Miss Marguerite McLaughlin and Prof. Enoch Grehan, journalism department, and Prof. A. E. Bigge, German department.

Dr. W. D. Funkhouser was indicated as the choice of many students, but he is ineligible, as are the deans of all the colleges.

In the College of Engineering, Prof. W. E. Freeman, Prof. W. A. Newman, Prof. J. R. Johnson, Prof. J. S. Horine, and Prof. Brinkley Bennett were among the leaders.

In the college of Commerce the leaders were Prof. A. J. Lawrence, Prof. Rodman Sullivan, Prof. R. D. McIntyre, Lloyd Averett, and Dr. W. W. Jennings.

The total number of faculty members who had received votes on Friday night was 102. The final results of the contest will be announced later through the Kernel.

The editor of the book announced that all students who are planning to have their pictures in the annual must have these pictures made before the photographers leave Wednesday. In the annual will be individual pictures of the juniors and seniors, of fraternity and sorority members, and of members of many of the organizations.

SUKY ANNOUNCES CHEER CONTEST

Author of Best Yell Will Get
Free Trip to Knoxville
For Kentucky - Tennessee
Game

For the best yell submitted to a committee appointed by SuKy circle the author will receive a trip to the traditional Turkey Day football battle at Knoxville with the University of Tennessee. This decision was announced by the members of the circle following a meeting held last week. Any student in the university may submit a yell and a committee will be appointed to select the new cheer.

All cheers must be turned in to Gro. Kingsbury any afternoon at the Kernel office. The closing date for the entries has been set as the Thursday preceding the Washington and Lee football game. The new yell will probably be introduced at the pep rally that is to be held the evening before the annual contest with the W. and L. gridder.

In addition to selecting new yells for the students, SuKy will also publish a new pep song. The music department, under the direction of Prof. Elmer Sulzer, is making plans to introduce the new battle song at the Alabama pep meeting.

The student winning the trip to Knoxville will leave with the band the evening before the battle with the Volunteers and according to present plans will return to Lexington immediately following the game.

The university pep group will hold a meeting this afternoon in the basement of the alumni gym. Pictures will be taken for the Kentuckian at that time and all members are urged to be present. Members having sweaters to wear them and new members will be given sweaters at the meeting.

Dimock Is Honored

DR. W. W. DIMOCK

Dr. W. W. Dimock, head of the department of animal pathology at the experimental station of the College of Agriculture, has returned from Europe where he was called to consult with breeders of light horses. He visited England, Ireland, and Normandy, conferring with managers of breeding establishments, veterinarians, and public officials regarding problems of the race horse industry in those countries.

Dr. Dimock is one of the outstanding animal pathologists of the country, having been selected from the entire country for this work for two consecutive years.

TRYOUTS WILL BE HELD OCT. 10

Winston Ardery Requests All
Aspirants To Make Appointments For
Tryouts

'AMATEUR NIGHT' OCT. 21

Tryouts for Strollers, student dramatic organization, will be held during the week of October 10, according to an announcement made yesterday by Winston Ardery, president. They will be conducted both in the afternoon and at night, in the training school auditorium, and all aspirants desiring tryouts are urged to make appointments early by calling Winston Ardery at the Phi Delta Theta house.

The tryout plays, one for two girls, one for two boys, and two for a boy and a girl, were ordered several days ago and are expected in today or tomorrow. As soon as they arrive they will be put on reserve in the library where they may be obtained at the desk of the reading room. These plays are not to be taken out, but all parts must be copied in the reading room.

Ardery suggests that all persons trying for Strollers get someone to direct the tryout plays for them, in order that the best possible performance be given.

The annual presentation of "Amateur Night", in which appear the best of the Stroller eligibles, will be October 21, at the Training school auditorium. Tickets will be on sale several days in advance, and may be obtained from any of the Stroller members or at Dunn Drug store on Lime and Maxwell.

The main attractions of amateur night will be the best three of the four short plays used in the tryouts, and also the announcement of the names of those who received points for making Stroller eligibles. Towards the 100 points necessary for making the organization, 25 will be awarded to all eligibles, with an additional 25 if the student appears in the amateur night program. Cups will also be awarded to boy and girl showing the greatest dramatic talent in the plays amateur night. Selections will be made by a committee composed of faculty members and persons selected from the staffs of the city newspapers.

Craddock Chosen Managing Editor

Johnny Craddock, art editor of the Kernel, has been appointed managing editor of the Kampus Kat, university comic publication according to Marvin Wachs, editor, who also said that it was hoped that the Kat would make its initial appearance for the Washington and Lee game.

The magazine, published by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity will be placed on sale at the university and will be a Hal-loween number. It will contain 36 pages, and will be replete with humor, short stories, and art work by Craddock.

Other members of the staff are Lawrence Herron, Gilbert Kingsbury, Wesley Carter, Keith Hemphill, and William Luther.

Sidney Schell Will Address Socialists

Speaker Is on Tour of All Midwestern Colleges and Universities

Sidney Schell, graduate of the university last June, will be the principal speaker at the second meeting of the Thomas-for-President club at 7:30 a.m. Thursday in room 111, McVey hall. Schell returned to Lexington early this week from a speaking tour through the middle western colleges and universities in support of the Socialist candidate.

On account of conflict with his courses, Clyde Reeves, elected president at the last meeting of the organization, has resigned and his place temporarily is being filled by John St. John. A new election to determine the permanent officers of the club will be held Thursday night.

At the meeting this week, definite plans for the organization will be worked out and arrangements made for a joint meeting with the Thomas - for - President club of Transylvania College, which is now being formed. If present plans materialize, a convention of all college liberal political clubs will be held on the campus before the November election. The meeting this week will be held at 7:30 p.m. in room 111, McVey hall.

Bryant, Gallagher Are Transferred To Other Posts

Two university R.O.T.C. instructors, Warrant Officer Edward F. Gallagher and Sergeant Herman B. Bryant, have received notice of their transfer to other posts according to an announcement made by Major Boltois Brewer head of the military science department at the university.

Officer Gallagher will be stationed at Concordia College at Wayne, Ind. He will hold a position as professor of military science and tactics. Mr. Gallagher has been stationed at the university for the past six years. He will leave his present post Thursday or Friday of this week.

Sergeant Bryant who has also been stationed at the university for the past six years has been transferred to the University of Dayton at Dayton, Ohio. He will be an instructor in the military science department at that school. Both men who have been transferred to other posts remain in the Fifth Corp area according to Major Brewer.

The vacancies caused by the current transfer will be filled by new men who are expected to arrive on the campus within the next few days. The department as yet has not been notified as to who those new instructors will be.

Soph Commission Will Hold Meeting

Sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., the Sophomore Commission will hold its first meeting at 7:15 p.m. Thursday in the reading room of Patterson hall, for the purpose of arranging a tentative program for the year's work, centering about various interests of college women.

The Commission is an outgrowth of the Y. W. C. A. Freshman cabinet for the last term, the members of which requested that a similar group be organized for sophomore women. It is unique in that it maintains no permanent officers; the chairmanship for the weekly meetings of the group will be determined by rotating the members.

BAND PLANS ARE RELEASED

Tentative plans for the program of the university band were announced yesterday. The band will play at the remaining three home games, will accompany the team to Knoxville for the Tennessee game, and will give 15 minute broadcasts at 1 p.m. on October 14, 28, and November 11.

BLANKED!

This is the height of something or other.

While going through the files of cards filled out during registration, one card stood out above the rest. Neatly printed in a fine firm hand with every question filled out exactly as the registrar would have had it done. Home town paper, parent's occupation, and even campus activities were included on the card. Surely we thought, here is a student. Quis vadit, we asked of ourselves. And so we looked—

Evidently a modest lad we guessed. He had forgotten to write in his name!

KENTUCKY WINS FROM SEWANEES BY 18-0 SCORE

"Pug" Bach Raced 51 Yards
Through Tigers for First Touchdown

SEWANEES HAS TWO
POWERFUL TACKLES

Kercheval Stars For 'Cats
On Offense; Kreuter and
Rupert Shine on Defense

By DELMAR ADAMS

Scoring three touchdowns at opportune moments, Coach Harry Gamage's Wildcat football machine rode over a fighting Sewanee team to take their second consecutive Southern conference game, by an 18-0 score, Saturday afternoon on Stoll field.

"Pug" Bach enlivened an otherwise rather dull football game with his return of a Sewanee punt for a touchdown early in the second period. Bach took the punt and dashed 51 yards through the entire Sewanee team to provide the first score of the game.

The first period was on the whole just an exchange of punts with Nelson of Sewanee holding his own with Kercheval, the great kicker of the Big Blue. Before Bach's run the 'Cats had been able to gain consistently, but could not get close enough to score.

The Gamagemen again worked the ball down within scoring distance but were unable to get further than the 10-yard line. Kercheval dropped back to try a field goal from placement, but it was low and Cravens got and returned it for five yards.

After a series of plays which netted neither team anything, Bach fumbled a punt Sewanee recovered and made their first first down of the afternoon on an end run by Kellerman. Failing to gain, Nelson kicked to Bach, who returned it to the 40-yard line. Both teams played badly during the rest of the first half. After failing to gain Kercheval punted 60 yards, and the Sewanee safety-man touched the ball and Kreuter, flashy Kentucky end, took it right out of his hands. With very little time to go the 'Cats had the ball on the six-yard stripe, and a first down. In three plays they had carried the oval to the six-inch line, and the gun ended the half.

The second half began with an exchange of punts. Kercheval's kick of 59 yards was judged by the safety, and Rupert recovered. Johnson and Bach carried it to the three-yard line, where Kercheval plowed through the line like a pile driver for the second score. His kick for extra point was blocked.

After some brilliant plays Kentucky punted. Nelson also punted after the Tigers were unable to solve the Big Blue forewell. Gamage then began injecting subs for the 'Cats. Darcy failed to gain or two plays and then Kercheval took the ball on a reverse and skirted right end, eluded several would-be tacklers and raced 36 yards down the sideline for the third and last touchdown of the game. Again Kercheval's kick failed when it went wide. On his run for the third score the team provided the kicking ace with perfect interference.

Following the third score Gamage inserted practically all the men on the bench and the Tigers started a rally that was cut short when Drury recovered a Sewanee fumble. "Bo" Meyers, diminutive little tail-back, who replaced Kercheval toward the first of the fourth period played as good a game as any of the Wildcat backs. He ran the team in a capable manner and carried the ball for numerous gains. His two punts averaged right around 47 (Continued on Page Four)

CLASSES IN GOLF TO OPEN AT U. K.

Prof. J. C. Jones Announces
Arrangements Are Being Made for Both Men and Women

Arrangements are being made by the physical education department of the university to offer a course in golf to students enrolling in a special section planned by that department. This is the first time that such a course has been offered at the university.

The course, according to Prof. J. C. Jones, golf coach, is designed primarily for those expecting to try out for the freshman or varsity golf team, but will be open to others interested until the class is full. The limit for the class has been set at 25.

The department also is considering offering a similar course for women students, but final plans have not been completed.

A regular instructor will be employed to take charge of the course. Instruction will be given on the campus and at the golf course. If the plan meets with success this semester several sections of physical education will be devoted to golf next semester, Professor Jones said. The cost of clubs for the course is estimated to be about the same as the amount usually required to cover the cost of the gym suit. A small fee will be charged for the use of the golf course.

THE COUNCIL AND THE CAP

Blue pots have been ordered for the Class of '36 and soon will make a belated appearance upon the Kentucky campus. Now that the members of the Men's Student Council have decided definitely that the wearing of the freshman cap by first year men students shall continue to be observed at the university, we wonder whether the council will exhibit backbone enough to enforce its decision.

The wearing of the freshman cap in late years has become of diminishing consequence. Although former council rules provided that first year men students would wear the cap until May day, customarily and in direct violation of the council's edicts freshmen discarded the blue insignia as soon as its novelty had departed.

Upperclassmen, fraternities, the Men's Pan-Hellenic council, and the Men's Student Council all are equally responsible for requiring strict observance of the council's mandate. Proof enough that they have shirked this responsibility is evinced by the increasing number of freshmen students discarding their caps before the proper time and by the campus-wide condoning of such violations.

Sympathy for the freshman cap tradition is undoubtedly on the wane. Nevertheless, now that the Men's Student Council has signified that the cap shall be worn for one more year, at least, it should enforce its decree. It has the authority. Other councils have not justified the faith which the student body has placed in them. Will the incumbent one?

FRESHMEN AND FRA- TERNITIES

This is not going to be a harangue on fraternities; it is merely a statement of ills prevalent on the University of Kentucky campus. However, the University of Kentucky is not the only institution where such conditions exist. A survey would reveal that at practically every college or university, the entering freshmen have a tendency to think that if they do not get initiated immediately into some fraternity that dire results will follow. Some of them even go to the extreme of neglecting studies, work and everything else just for the opportunities of fraternity life.

There are those who have sufficient time for fraternities and should go into them, which is all very well as they will doubtless profit by them. Nevertheless, they should not enter such organizations with the thought that it is absolutely necessary before they can proceed with their college career. The purposes for which one is in school should be considered first. Activities and social life should be a secondary matter.

Yet this is not the most important thing for a freshman to consider before going into a fraternity. He should never enter an organization until he is certain that he can meet the obligations which he assumes when he becomes a member. There are many freshmen on the campus who as a matter of fact are financially unable to meet the requirements of their fraternities. And this does not apply solely to freshmen as there are upper classmen in the same condition. They have become members of organizations and then have been unable to keep up their obligations, working an injustice on their fraternities as well as a hardship on themselves.

We conclude by giving this word of advice to prospective fraternity men—that you give the financial side of the question some consideration before going into an organization.

CONCERNING THE TRAVELS OF DOCTOR FUNKHOUSER

(To the Editor of The Kernel)

Dear Sir:
You are probably interested in the travels of Doctor Funkhouser. Inclosed is a clipping from the front page of THE PANAMA-AMERICAN, one of the two largest newspapers published on the Isthmus of Panama.

Dr. and Mrs. Funkhouser were here for only a day while the ship was removing a cargo, but we were able to show them quite a bit of the place. Especially interesting was a large collection of local snakes which one of the institutions had held over for him to see before they were shipped to Harvard in Boston. Mrs. DeCoursey (nee Estley Fertig) and I were delighted to appease Dr. and Mrs. Funkhouser's desires for unusual things by serving a variety of tropical foods at a dinner which we had for them.

Yours truly,

AN AUTHOR REPLIES

(To the Editor of The Kernel)

Dear Sir:
My attention has been called to The Kernel's review of my "American Literature and Culture." The reviewer, following, it would seem, the lead of young John Chamberlain of the NEW YORK TIMES, accused me of timidity in the formation and expression of opinions about recent authors, of straddling in my estimates of different schools of present day writers. Because I do not wish that impression to stand uncorrected, may I quote from the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT'S review of my book, on the first page of that paper under date of the thirtieth of July? The sentence reads: "As an impartial commentary on American life, manners, and letters, Mr. Knight's volume is extremely rich in value."

This opinion is, I think, an exaggerated one, but nevertheless I should like to call attention to the word "impartial." The Boston reviewer was skilled enough to know that any literary historian who attempted to give final estimates of his contemporaries would be committing an egregious blunder. I tried in my book to be impartial to point out merits and defects in contemporary writing as I examined it, and I fail to see how my praise of Dreiser and of Edith Wharton, certainly different in many respects, is illogical or inconsistent. One could hardly expect all intelligent novelists or critics or poets to hold the same views and share their aims, but that does not preclude the possibility of their being expert workmen.

Faithfully yours,
(Signed:) GRANT C. KNIGHT.

A CORRECTION

(To the Editor of The Kernel)

Dear Sir:

Please make the following correction:

In writing up a news item from the university library recently, The Kentucky Kernel said that there were 300 books missing from the Browning room. There should be some 300 books in the Browning room collection, and there are only about 40 missing. There have been no serious losses since last winter.

Very truly yours,
(Signed:) MARGARET I. KING, Librarian.

UNDER BLUSHING PROTEST

To the Editor of The Kernel

Dear Sir:

I wish to voice my hearty appreciation for the good work The Kernel is doing on the Editorial Page. It is good reading, constructively gotten up, well timed and to the point, with not a trace of the 'gripers' greed for sympathy.

"In the Can, Mister," was good. If all of us could develop the same interest in good citizenship, not only the campus but the United States at large would be a more pleasant place in which to work and live.

I can't go on. I mean
I'm done
With co-ed schools
like this;
Why even when I try
to think,
My thoughts run on a miss.

I hope you continue to bear down on the indiscriminate parkers. Unless the car owning people on the campus meet the situation satisfactorily the University will eventually deprive them of the privilege. They wouldn't like that. It is not difficult for me to understand why The Kernel rates so highly. More power to you. If I can be of service at any time please do not hesitate to sound off.
Cordially,

LITTLE GIRL ACROSS THE STREET

Little girl across the street,
Let us hope sometime we'll meet;
I should like to talk to you,
Smile into those eyes of blue;
Tell you how I like your style,
And how much I like your smile—
But that is all that can be said.
For you must carefully draw your shade.

—J. ALLISON.

NIGHT COMES

A velvet blanket overspreads the sky,
And one by one the pinpoint holes appear,
Whereby the stars shine through;
And soon a silver globe appears.
And then a brooding silence covers all,
For night has come.

—B. PEARLMAN.

SUNSET

The sun sinks slowly in the west,
And twilight gathers 'round;
It seems the world has gone to rest,
And's silenced every sound.
Bright gold and crimson streak the sky—
The vanguard of the night;
And through the dusk is throned on high
The sunset's glory bright.

—WYCUR.

URANUS

It was a dark and somber planet,
A region of eternal twilight,
With a misty, sable landscape,
Haunted by the birds of night.
Faintly seen through shadowy air,
Was a distant purple mountain;
And, distorted in the dark light,
Leaped a melancholy fountain.

In such a weird and ghastly place,
Glad we were to have a space-car;
Thankful that we were not fated
To have lived on such a star.

—WYCUR.

AUTUMN WIND

The autumn wind
Rushes through the campus,
Into classrooms—
It scatters papers,
Rustles skirts,
And ruffles hair,
Swishes through the corridors,
And rustles out again.

QUIS VADIT?

—CRADDOCK.

By JOHNNIE CRADDOCK

This man is a great psychologist and advertising genius. He gained national renown when he began writing ads for Ballyhoo. With the aid of Elmer Zilch, this psychological genius has written ads so filled with emotion and humanism that they tear at the heartstrings of the great American public, warning them to beware of those incurable plagues, pink hairbrush and run down heels.

His dynamic advertising appeals are uncanny. He once sold 37 carloads of mahogany sawdust for cayenne pepper. But he was fair; he simply wrote an ad telling his innocent victims that the product was hot stuff.

One day, while riding a bicycle, he ran over a skunk. Playfully nudging his left thyroid, he exclaimed, "What a whale of a difference a few scents make." He is now making a layout advertising dust goggles for goldfish. He says that he will clean up during the next drought. He will teach you advertising too, if you can stay awake in class.

Who is this man?

Writer Finds Life, Hope, and Magazine In Home-Ec Area

By MARJORIE F. HOAGLAND

Actual New Yorkers, (not the pseudo ones who really come from Indianapolis or somewhere) are often accused of being the most provincial persons in the world, because they are so sure that all that is worthwhile is within walking distance that they never take even a look at the tremendous accomplishments taking place on the outside.

And if you want to go through the university without knowing that there are any buildings except that rambling one housing the deans' offices (which you are called to at times) and McVey hall (where you have classes), of course that is your privilege. But if you want to be startled into having a good time, and incidentally learn about this and that, go over to the home economics department in the Experiment Station building. There is a roomy "students' room", business offices, class rooms, an amazingly varied library, a lot of people with a hopeful outlook on life, and The News-Letter.

The title of the publication is, you see, stressed. It ought to be. One often hears of "arresting productions", ahem, but it isn't often that one is privileged to see what dispassionate judgment would rate that. This little sixteen page paper, printed on the best quality wood-pulp seen around here since the last (pardon us, Pat. Only the optimistic would venture the other.) Legislature met, is edited by the two vice-presidents of the Kentucky Home Economics association, Miss Edith Grundmeier and Miss Hazel Alexander, both of the university. The first outstanding thing noted (by a journalism student, at least) is that the thing is gotten up on good publicity principles. There aren't too many ads, and those used are apropos. Pictures are scattered around at convenient places.

The articles themselves are naturally of great importance. Even had they been the usual type of stuff one has learned to expect, they would have been. But it has a series of the most surprisingly interesting articles one could imagine! Following the first page filled with greetings from the president, list of new officers, and some carefully written material regarding a national meeting, one finds an article going into detail on the subject of college education in home economics. Were you, by any chance, aware of the fact that graduates of that department are now able to enter any of these fields: dietetics, institutional management, marketing, textile research, commercial clothing, designing, child care, as well as that of teaching or actual homemaking? These fields have, in the main, been opened up within the past fifteen years, and women are really achieving things in them. After all, people who do things that help keep our morale up to par, or even a little above, who help us to formulate a working philosophy regarding those basic things we all tend to forget, are accomplishing far more in life than many of us can hope for.

"Legislation Endorsed by the American Home Economics Association" is the next subject. And it goes into a discussion that would enliven a political science student, all about national issues of import to those concerned about home economics, which is a pretty large percentage of our population, you know. The next thing Kentucky students ought to appreciate is a notice of the Phi Upsilon Omicron convocation held in Lexington during the summer. All the good points were mentioned, and there wasn't even the well-known joke about the roads (who was it awarded a medal to the editor who wrote a story of an erroneous report of a man's supposed death without mentioning Mark Twain?). Later reports of student clubs, of Kentucky colleges and universities, etc., follow, and a brief history of the Kentucky organization.

If you want to know about the rest of it, you'll have to read the magazine yourself. Provided you can spare time from your ravenous consumption of the Bookman, or the Golden Book.

There is something just a little thrilling in getting acquainted with work of interest on the campus; so much of it is immensely worthwhile and constructive. Things being chaotic as they are, one is inclined to put faith in the people who see enough meaning to life to actually work to make it better. That is, really, what all the faculty of the school are trying to do; they wouldn't bother with teaching and research otherwise. And in this home economics department, one necessarily makes contact with those who can see immediate results of their labors, and of course enjoy it hugely. That's the reason I ventured the opinion that you should all go over there and look about. You will like to watch it—and you will be glad that it is being done.

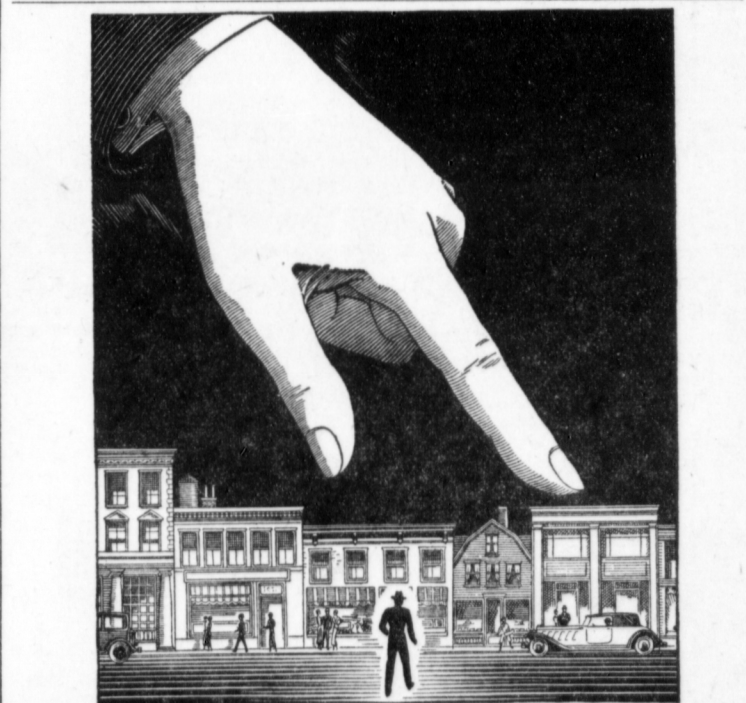

Phi Delta Phi and Phi Mu Alpha are requested to have pictures taken for the Kentuckian before Wednesday.

Pointing the way to the advertised brand

Many a "sale" made by advertising has gone to a competitor because the purchaser did not know where to buy the advertised brand. Telephone men evolved a plan to make it easy to find.

They created a "Where to Buy It" service in the classified telephone directory. There—beneath the advertised trade marks—Buick, Goodrich, RCA Victor, General Electric and many others now list authorized local dealers. Thus telephone men complete the chain between advertiser and consumer—increase the effectiveness of advertising—help manufacturers and dealers to increase sales—help consumers to get what they want!

Because they apply vision to subscribers' problems, Bell System men continually increase the value of telephone service.

After going native over the week-end at the Ben Ali with "Kongo," the management arranges for us to laugh it off with that riot known as Jimmy Cagney in his latest release "Winner Take All". One of the fastest laugh-provoking pictures on the screen, "Winner Take All" gives Cagney wide opportunity to show himself at his whirlwind best, and we never heard of Cagney mugging an opportunity yet.

Laughs rang out the length and breadth of Theatre Row recently, and with the new comedy team of Buster Keaton and Jimmy (Schnozle) Durante, in "Speak Easily," and the howl did the local fans so much good that the Strand is giving them another chance to get rid of their blues by bringing the film for a return showing Wednesday and Thursday. A good laugh never hurt anybody, you know.

Wasn't it Oscar Wilde who asserted that Life realized in fact what had been dreamed in fiction? Maybe he would be gratified to learn that Cortland Fitzsimmons wrote a story about a football fatality and then a week or so ago Life went and let it happen, when a player on an Alabama high school team was killed during the game; we are told that it was the first casualty of the kind that has occurred. Paramount offers a screen version of Fitzsimmons' story with Johnny Mack Brown as the unfortunate victim who fell as he raced for the goal line. The picture, "70,000 Witnesses," takes its name from the fact that not one of the seventy thousand fans who saw him drop could tell how it happened. This football murder mystery, packed with suspense, action, and thrills, is billed for Thursday at the Kentucky.

FROSH WILL NOT MEET EASTERN FRESHMEN

Head Freshman Coach B. L. Pribble announced Monday afternoon that his yearling squad was on going to meet the Eastern Teachers college freshmen as formerly announced, but would meet the frosh of Marshall college this Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock on Stoll field. The time of the game has been moved up to the earlier time so as not to interfere with the gridgraph reports that are to come from Atlanta.

When it was first learned that Eastern would not be on the frosh schedule, a game with Kentucky Military Institute was contemplated, but due to a full schedule K. M. I. will be unable to meet the frosh. The highlight of Thursday's scrimmage was the opposition that the Frosh gave the Wildcats while on the defense on their own 10-yard line. The yearlings were kept on the defense during most of the scrimmage and at times the varsity had some trouble with them. The freshmen did not show up as well on the offense but they managed to make a few gains. The yearlings have still had very little time to work on their own plays but nevertheless they are getting a great deal of experience scrimmaging against the varsity.

The freshman injury list has been small so far this year, Gilmer being the only man that has been injured in practice. Gilmer developed water on the arm and was kept out of practice for a couple of days, but is now back in the lineup.

McMillan, the little 150 pound bunch of dynamite, is very ably holding the quarterback position and shows promise of keeping the immortal name of McMillan fresh in the minds of all football fans. Hay, a candidate for the fullback position, seems to have plenty of drive and is going to give Gilmer plenty of competition.

Prichard, an all-state end from Princeton, Kentucky, has been shifted to the backfield and has been showing plenty of speed. Other backfield men that showed up well in the scrimmage are: the Potter brothers, Jackson, McClurg, Ayres, and Symson; Mires, a newcomer to the team, has shown a great deal of promise in the short time that he has been on the field. The end positions seem to be well taken care of by Bolton, Long, and Anderson. Rhodes and Kelly are holding down the guard positions. Kelly is from Sturgis, Babe Wright's home town. Jobe and Bertolini have everything under control at the tackle positions. At the pivot position it is still tossup between Andrews, Dickey, and Myers.

As a whole the freshmen still look pretty green, but if they continue to improve in the future as much as they have in the short time that they have been on the field they will be hard to beat.

University High Ties Nicholasville 6 to 6

University High opened its season Friday in Nicholasville, tying a heavier Nicholasville High team, 6-6. Both teams wasted several opportunities to score. The feature of the game was a 60-yard run from scrimmage by V. Hillard, University High halfback.

Nicholasville scored in the second period when they mixed a passing attack with line bucks to march 45 yards down field to a touchdown. University High came back to score in the third quarter after recovering a fumble on Nicholasville's 25 yard line. Following two first downs, V. Hillard scored. Neither team added the extra point.

Both teams played good football for an opening game. Nicholasville sported a good kicker in Boone and a shifty ball carrier in Hinkle. University High produced a strong sported a good kicker in Boone and Hillard, outstanding.

yards, which was better than any of the other kickers got. In the line Kreuter and Rupert played brilliant games. Both were instrumental in breaking up several Sewanee rallies. Both were down under the kicks and never missed a tackle. Only once did the safety man elude them and then he was caught from the rear before he had gone far.

All of the Big Blue backs showed considerable improvement over their initial appearance and the offense picked up in proportion. Kercheval, Johnson, Darby, Foster, Asher, Bach and Meyer looked good. Sewanee was a tough team to play in the second game. They had a great line, great defensively, but not so good offensively. They were able to stop the Wildcat runners, but only because the 'Cat tackles were unused to the type of defense the Purples employed. Lawrence and Captain Morton at the ends, Castleberry and Nelson tackles and Eggleston, center were towers of strength on the defense and the 'Cats were forced to play their hardest to win.

The Wildcats piled up 12 first-downs to four for their valiant opponents. The Big Blue gained 196 yards on running plays and held their foes to 52. Each team completed one pass; Sewanee for 12 yards and Kentucky for two. Both teams played ragged at times and the penalties were numerous, but on the whole it was a rather well played game.

FROSH CAPS SOON

The new ruling of the Men's Student council requiring first year boys to wear freshmen caps will not go into effect immediately, due to the fact that bids from merchants of Lexington have not been received by the council. The minimum time required to place the tiny blue and white caps on sale is expected to be about two weeks.

Cooper Supervises Harvest Festival

The university sub-station at Quicksand, Breathitt county, is holding its annual two-day Harvest festival Thursday and Friday of this week.

Dean Thomas Cooper, director of the Kentucky Agriculture Experiment station, has general supervision, and is the presiding officer of the festival.

The festival which is financed by Mr. E. O. Robinson, Ft. Thomas, is for the purpose of creating a greater interest in agriculture throughout the state. All farm products and livestock are exhibited and prizes are awarded.

Education School Graduates Teach In Lower Grades

The College of Education at the university began in 1930 a program for the training of kindergarten, primary and upper grade teachers. Up to that date the College of Education had been engaged only in training people for teaching positions in high schools and for administrative positions.

At the present time it is possible for a person who expects to teach in high school to come to the university and procure training for teaching in the fields of agriculture, art, English, home economics, the social sciences, the languages, mathematics, music, and the sciences. Students majoring in secondary education at the university must complete two teaching majors in addition to their professional major. Their teaching majors must be in subjects that are taught in the secondary schools of Kentucky.

In addition to the training of teachers for the elementary and secondary fields in the state, the College of Education offers curricula that train for supervision in both the elementary and secondary schools, and administrative positions as principal or superintendent. Through the graduate division courses are offered leading to the masters' and doctorate degrees. Six persons majoring in education have been granted the doctorate degree in the past two years. All of these men with one exception now hold college positions.

Lambert Reorganizes University Glee Club

Approximately 40 men composing the men's Glee club of the university are practicing every Monday and Thursday night, at the art center under the direction of Professor Lambert, who, with the assistance of Mildred Lewis has reorganized the club.

New numbers are being prepared by the singers: "The Blue Danube Waltz," by Strauss, and "I Love a Little Cottage," by Geoffrey O'Hare. Too, old numbers are being revived and will be presented at future programs. Several road trips, among which is the annual trip to Paris, are among the features of this year's glee club program.

THE FALL OF CONSTANTINOPLE

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Thomas Webb... inspired by the savage slaughter of 5000 Christian defenders—at the hands of the vengeful, barbaric horde of 250,000 men under the ruthless Mohammed II—1453!

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies ... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, tho he build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON.
Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
